Delivered by download. Contents Around 10,000 inhabitants live in this administrative division. The economy of this area is mainly based on fishing, tourism and commerce. Tourism is a well-developed activity in this area. The centre of the village is the local market, which is located near the sea, in the district of El Castellar, and is organised by Grupo Olga Vega. The area has many restaurants, bars and local shops selling local products, such as olive oil. There are many beaches in the area. For example, in the northeast of the district of Canillo, in the hamlet of Laguna de Moros, the sea is known as Mar Muerto. The bathing is excellent in this area. There are 18 bars, some of which are restaurants, and a disco, which is located near the church of our Lady of Guadalupe, near the beach of the same name. A new commercial centre is currently being built to attract many more residents to this area. There are some springs in the area. The most famous one is the spring of Simancas, which is located in the hamlet of Simancas, not far from the church of Saint Mary. The source is in the rocks, and a public park has been created around it. The Río Sábalo, which runs through the region, is a river that offers excellent fishing opportunities, and is considered the source of the fishing "chumao" that is consumed all year round, and that gives this area its reputation. The nearby "Camarón" fish is also well-known. The best spot for picnics is the beach of Simancas, where visitors may enjoy the romantic light of the sun and the waves of the sea. The beach of Simancas is one of the most popular beaches of Cantabria, and is perfect for a "laurel" holiday, that is, a romantic picnic or walk in the countryside. The area has many small neighbourhoods, which are very well-travelled. For example, the neighbourhood 54b84cb42d
